1986 PORSCHE 924 S
LE MANS SPECIAL EDITION

OFFERED EXCLUSIVELY FOR SALE BY BOUTSEN CLASSIC CARS

1986 PORSCHE 924 S

This Porsche 924 S 'Le Mans' edition of 1988 is a very special and rare model of Porsche's 'junior' transaxle sports car, built to celebrate Porsche's 12th outright win at Le Mans.

Coined the 924S SE in the US and 'Le Mans' for other markets, these were effectively 'Club Sport' editions aimed at real Porsche enthusiasts to celebrate the culmination of the 924-production run. Fittingly, arguably the best 924 model, the 924S, was the version on which the Le Mans limited-edition model was based; importantly, Porsche utilised the more powerful and smooth 165bhp 2.5-litre M44 alloy inline-four engine from the 'big brother' 944.

This Porsche 924 S 'Le Mans' edition is a very beautiful example of a lesser-spotted modern classic. With its more powerful naturally aspirated engine, manual transmission and M030 suspension, the 1988 Le Mans model is a great driver's car, and this particular 924 S remains in impressive original specification as an exemplar of the breed.
